Secret addresses from stylish people

EDDIE BORG is a jewellery designer known for his edgy but wearable creations. Based in New York, he has collaborated with Marchesa, Joseph Altuzarra and Proenza Schouler. His debut collection launched in 2009. eddieborgo.com

The Upper House

Hong Kong

This hotel's sweeping views of Victoria Harbour combine with a minimal aesthetic that I admire. upperhouse.com

Mount Street

London W1

I like this street's historical locations, such as Allens butcher's, sitting near notable landmarks like The Connaught hotel. mountstreetmayfair.co.uk

Mantiques Modern

New York
I appreciate the simplicity of mid-century furniture design and find the most unusual tabletop objects at Mantiques. And I revere Horseman Antiques' Pierre Cardin furniture – also in New York. mantiquesmodern.com; horsemanantiques.net

Galerie Perrotin

New York
The Parisian art dealer Emmanuel Perrotin's gallery is always worth a visit. He's credited with launching Damien Hirst's career and catapulting Takashi Murakami into superstardom. perrotin.com

Primrose Hill Books

London NW1

I am an avid book collector, and the rare and out-of-print selection here is impressive. I've come across books that are hard to find in America. primrosehillbooks.com

LN-CC

London E8
This appointment-only warehouse has a great selection of clothing as well as rare vinyl records and hard-to-find books. ln-cc.com

Giovanna Ticiatti

Petworth, West Sussex
Petworth is a small English town known for its antiques shops. One of my favourites is Giovanna Ticiatti, which carries rare antique and modern furniture as well as objets d'art. giovannaticciatti.com
